We have a continuous data log of mac addresses and ip addresses and need to keep them stored in a relational database. A: Oracle has a locator that can read MAC addresses out of the Oracle DNS Cache. On other dbms, it's possible to implement your own solution, but you need to at least have a good understanding of what you're doing - the "MAC-to-IP address" address lookup gets quite involved if you don't already have a proper database of IPs which you're looking for. A: Redis has a very cool module, with "SPI" interface: Which can help you doing this : I suppose you have to write yourself the mapping function, but this is quite powerful! The role of the body in cognitive psychology: What makes a body body? The cognitive psychology is founded in the general-specific laws. In the traditional approach to cognitive psychology, the body is not taken into account as a variable of choice. 09e8f5149f
